

WILL LET CONTRACT FOR SAN DIEGO BUILDING

State Exposition Commission to Hold Important Meeting Tomorrow in Santa Fe.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald.) Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 20.—The state exposition commission will meet here tomorrow afternoon in what will be one of the most important sessions since its organization. The commission, which is composed of R. E. Twitcheell, Manuel U. Vigil, Guy Reed, S. T. Clark and J. J. Schuler, recently visited the exposition site at San Diego, where the location of the New Mexico building was finally determined. Architect I. H. Hays, the official architect of the commission, who accompanied the members to San Diego, remained on the ground to complete the plans and call for bids on the work and his report will be received at tomorrow's meeting. On Mr. Hays' report the commission will be able to determine the disposition of the remainder of the funds at its command, after setting aside the sum necessary for the construction.

The meeting also is expected to hear reports from those in charge of various features of the work and to make final plans for the collection and placing of the state display.

Prosperity Talks by Men Who Know

VAN HOUTEN THINKS THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS SPLENDID

Head of Great Colfax County Coal Mining Interests Says Prosperous Conditions Are Ahead.

BELIEVES RAILROADS WILL GET RATE ADVANCE

Finds Sentiment in the East Favorable to Immediate Revival of Business Activity.

The immediate return of national prosperity in all lines of business activity is looked for by J. Van Houten, manager of the great Colfax county mining interests of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Fuel company and allied corporations and one of the leading business men of the southwest, who is in Albuquerque today. Mr. Van Houten is here to attend the annual meeting of the Occidental Insurance company, of which he is a director. He has just returned from Europe and from an extended stay in the east, and what he finds there confirms his belief that there is prosperity ahead for the whole country.

"I like the general business outlook," said Mr. Van Houten this morning. "I have studied conditions carefully during my stay in the east, and from all I have been able to see and to hear from others we have a period of prosperity immediately before us. There is a general feeling of optimism. Business men great and small are talking good times, and when the business men of this country get to talking good times in chorus, good times are mighty sure to come."

"On what is based I do not know, but there seems to be a pretty definite feeling that the five per cent freight rate increase which has been asked for by the railroads east of the Mississippi will be granted, and should this be the case, it will mean much in the way of renewed activity not only for the railroads themselves but in general business. Probably the basis of this belief is found in the general feeling now apparent that the railroads have had enough regulating and that they need some fair, business-like consideration; and that in the course of the regulating, rates have gone too low. Short line railroads used to be profitable in this country. They are no longer, for the rates on the trunk lines have been crowded down to such a point that fair divisions for the little lines are no longer possible. Short lines in our own state have felt this to their sorrow."

"The currency law is an accomplished fact now. It seems to be giving general satisfaction, and those who are not altogether satisfied feel that at least it can do no harm, while the question is settled. This has had much to do with encouraging the optimistic feeling now prevailing. On the whole the outlook is most encouraging."

North New Mexico Prospects.
"In northern New Mexico we have a very happy prospect for the coming year. We had some great snow storms early in the winter. For several days our coal mining operations were suspended because we could not get our locomotives up to the mines. But this was only temporary, while there were some sheep losses in the open country in Union county they were not general and aside from a few instances not heavy. Cattle prices are good and the lumber market is going forward nicely, so that we look for a mighty good year in Colfax county and the northern part of the state."

Coal Strike About Over.
"The coal strike in southern Colorado has been a very ugly one, but fortunately has not had much effect on our mines on this side of the mountains. There have been some efforts to get unions out from agitators, but our miners for the most part are satisfied with conditions and have refused to be agitated, so that the strike has affected us but slightly. We have had most of our trouble with the Greek laborers. Many of them have just returned from the Balkan war and they respond to the talk of a fight for liberty and human rights with a wild desire to get a gun and murder someone. That disposition makes them somewhat dangerous. Thus far, however, we have had little serious trouble with them. "I think the Colorado strike is effectively broken. It will take some time to get the disaffected miners out of the district, but it appears that the worst of it is over."

Permanent Canal Zone Government.
Washington, Jan. 20.—Added evidence that President Wilson has accepted the plan of Colonel Goethals for a permanent government for the Panama canal zone is seen in the dispatch of Captain Rodman of the navy to the isthmus to confer with Colonel Goethals about the handling of shipping and control of the anchorages, of which the captain will have charge. President Wilson has made no announcement of what form of government he will approve and Secretary Nathan has declined to do so, although it is generally believed in official circles that the plan of Colonel Goethals will be approved.

TRAVELING MEN FIND SOUTHWESTERN BUSINESS GOOD

Albuquerque Merchant Makes a Point of Seeing Them All and Finds Cause for Rejoicing in Their Opinions.

E. J. Strong, of the Strong book store, has a hobby. He likes to talk to traveling salesmen. Mr. Strong long ago found out that the traveling salesman as a class are better informed as to conditions in business throughout the country than any other class of business men, and in his recent talks with them he has found cause for happiness.

"I like to talk to the traveling men," said Mr. Strong this morning, "and I find it always pays to do so. They know conditions and know them at first hand. Their opinions on business conditions are bound to carry weight. Recently every traveling salesman I have met has told me that conditions throughout the country are changing, improving, looking up, that orders are increasing, that towns are looking more prosperous, that, in a word, the country is right on the verge of a big era of prosperous times."

"Of course, there are always local conditions. We have our own local conditions as has every community, but generally speaking, these men bring me nothing but news of good times ahead and it is mighty encouraging."

"My business in 1913 was much better than in 1912, although the year probably was not as prosperous in all lines as this is professor. But from all I can see we have in Albuquerque have ample cause for gratification and for the feeling which I find to be general in the community that the year ahead is going to be our very best."

ALBUQUERQUE HAS GOOD SHOW FOR SANITARIUM

Deputy Supreme Dictator Lessing Thinks This City Is Well in the Running. Sellers Rides Goat Tonight.

At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Albuquerque lodge of Moose and their friends in the Moose lodge rooms last night, Deputy Supreme Dictator Gauthier Lessing of El Paso told the meeting that Albuquerque not only has a chance to land the great $200,000 sanitarium, which the order is soon to build, but that this city has a very good chance indeed in the competition among southwestern cities. Mr. Lessing will be here today assisting members of the order in organization work.

Sellers to Ride Goat.
There will be great doing in the order tonight, for no other than Mayor E. K. M. Sellers is slated to ride the goat and the members of the order have the annual in a fair state of training. It is said that the mayor is to be received into the order with not only open arms but with all bars down. A number of other candidates are to be initiated tonight and the lodge here is having a rapid growth.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, night will be ladies' night at the Moose lodge rooms and will take the form of a hard times party. All ladies and their gentlemen friends are to be invited to their oldest hard-time clothes. There will be refreshments, plenty of music and dancing.

MANY INDICTMENTS FOR LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Expected That Long String of Criminal Cases Will Result from Supreme Court Indian Land Rulings.

(Special Dispatch to Evening Herald.) Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 20.—The recent decision of the United States supreme court holding that the laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians are effective on all lands held by the Poetons, or which must be traversed in the traffic, is resulting in extensive activity by officers of the Indian service charged with enforcing the anti-liquor law.

It is understood here that operating under this law and the court's decision, agents of the Indian department have prepared cases against more than forty individuals charged with violations, which are to be brought before the next session of the grand jury here.

JAIL OR $5,000 FOR GENERAL JOSE INEZ SALAZAR

United States Attorney Burkhardt Expects to Have Definite News of Disposition of Captive in Few Days.

Beyond the fact that he has been arrested in the western district of Texas, I have no information as to what has been done in the case of General Jose Inez Salazar," said United States Attorney Burkhardt this morning. "I expect, however, to have information within a few days as to what has been done with the general."

General Salazar, it will be recalled, was arrested before I became United States attorney. The man was arrested at the instance of the state department. He was indicted for violation of the neutrality law and was held under bond of $1,000. This bond he forfeited.

"When we learned that Salazar was being pushed northward by Villa's forces, I concluded at once that he would soon show up on our side of the border and had a new warrant issued for him and an order increasing his bond to $5,000. These were forwarded to the United States officers for the western district of Texas where Salazar, as has been expected, was forced to cross. His arrest was reasonably certain from the start. The procedure now will be to bring him before the United States commissioner at Marfa, where he will either furnish bond or an order issue for his removal to this district. In the event of his failure to furnish the $5,000 bond he will be brought to New Mexico at once, and I should not be surprised to find the general in our midst almost any day now."

The assistant United States attorney at El Paso is handling the case for this office.

"Once brought to New Mexico the further disposition of General Salazar's case will be up to the courts."

The arrest of General Salazar and his further fate are of the greatest interest to New Mexico people, and particularly to the southern part of the state, since it was under Salazar's orders that Tom Fountain, son of General Fountain, and who was serving in the Mexican army, was executed under the so-called fugitive law. In other words, Fountain was turned loose in the presence of a group of soldiers with loaded rifles and told to run while the soldiers shot him.

The case attracted wide attention at the time and a demand made from this government through Secretary of State Knox, that the Mexican government make prompt amends, which up to this time said government has failed to do.

SMALL PUMP PLANTS MUCH IN FAVOR LOCALLY

Home and Garden Owners Outside City Water Limits Interested in Korber Display of Gasoline Engines.

People who own homes and small garden tracts beyond the limits served by the Albuquerque water works are, according to a show at a local observance, just beginning to realize the advantage of operating their well pumps by means of small gasoline engines. Orders for a number of these small and inexpensive pumping plants have been placed lately with J. Korber & Company, and in every instance the results have proved wonderfully satisfactory.

The Korber people have what is declared to be one of the most complete lines of gasoline pumps in the west—everything from one to twenty horse-power—and they are all of the standard John Deere make. With the very smallest of these engines and a proper attachment to the old hand pump every household water need can be supplied quickly and without effort, and very considerable garden tracts can also be sufficiently irrigated. Korber & Co. have a number of these pumping outfits set up and operable in their North Second street salesroom, where they are being daily inspected by interested Albuquerqueans.

15,000 TWO CENT STAMPS TO MAIL CATALOGUE

E. W. Fee Gives Postmaster Hopkins Largest Order on Record at Local Postoffice.

SHOWS SURPRISING GROWTH OF BUSINESS

Fifteen thousand two cent stamps. Did you ever see that many, all in a bunch?

Fifteen thousand two cent stamps is what E. W. Fee, the feed, seeds, poultry and stock supplies man went up to the postoffice yesterday and asked the postmaster for yesterday. Mr. Hopkins had to listen twice to believe his ears but when he found there was no joke about it he brought forth $300 worth of stamps. Fifteen thousand stamps is some stamps; or at least it looked that way when they were piled up on top of Mr. Fee's desk yesterday, where he and his assistants were busy engaged in preparing for mailing 15,000 copies which make up the edition of his catalogue of supplies for poultrymen, gardeners, stockmen, bee keepers and ranchmen this year.

Just putting these stamps on is a good big contract all by itself—let alone looking them. Mr. Fee of course uses a mechanical linker for such a large consignment.

This is the largest single order of stamps on record here.

The 1914 catalogue is larger than ever before. It is issued by home talent—Albright and Anderson and is considerable of an achievement in the printing line.

It is a striking demonstration of the remarkable growth of Mr. Fee's big business from its beginnings here. Ten years ago he issued his first catalogue—a modest pamphlet of just a few pages—while the present edition looks as if it might be from one of the big eastern mail order houses. Dependable merchandise, square dealing, a one price system and proper business methods combined with a faith in the future of Albuquerque are responsible for the growth of the business, which now, from the headquarters in the brick building at 212-214-216 Lead avenue reaches practically all over the southwest. In addition to the commodious sales building Mr. Fee has a large warehouse at 610-612-614 West Coal avenue. The establishment is one of the largest commercial enterprises in the state, a home institution of great importance to Albuquerque.

Send in your orders for the catalogue now. It is absolutely comprehensive, covering everything in the way of supplies and needs and poultryman. It is good reading even if you are not a poultryman, stockman, ranchman, apiarist or gardener.

KERN WILL GO TO THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO

Stated Unofficially That Popular General Superintendent of Santa Fe Will Soon Make Change.

It was learned this morning from what seems to be an authoritative source, that the rumor current for several days in railroad circles to the effect that J. M. Kern, general superintendent of the western division is soon to leave the service of the Santa Fe is correct. It is stated unofficially that Mr. Kern has been tendered an important position in the operating department of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad system, that he has accepted and that he will take the new position in the near future. It is further stated that Mr. Kern is to be succeeded as general superintendent by either Frank Myers, now superintendent of the New Mexico division, or Superintendent Bristol of the Colorado division; it is gathered, however, that the matter of Mr. Kern's successor is more or less settled and drawn from the fact that both men named are in line for succession. No confirmation of this has come from Mr. Kern direct, but the information is given by railroad men in a position to know.

The news that Mr. Kern is to leave the Santa Fe will be received with sincere regret not only in the railroad circles, but among people all along the line under his supervision, especially in New Mexico. He has been in the Santa Fe service for many years and has made a large circle of very warm friends all over the state and especially on the New Mexico division where he was stationed as superintendent for a number of years and from which point he was advanced to the general superintendent's position under General Manager F. C. Fox. Mr. Kern is a thorough railroad man and is regarded generally as an authority on operating matters.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to express through these columns our heartfelt and grateful appreciation of the many acts of kindness on the part of our friends at the time of our bereavement in the death of our daughter and sister, Mrs. J. M. Kern, who passed away on Jan. 18, 1914.

FORTY THOUSAND ENVELOPES TO BE USED

Merchants Place Orders for Mail Coverings Carrying Panoramas of Albuquerque on the Back.

The Lithgow Manufacturing Stationery company today completed taking orders for a clever Albuquerque advertising scheme in which merchants all over the city are co-operating. The merchants have ordered a total of forty-three thousand envelopes of all sizes which are to bear the names of the various business houses on the front, as usual, and on the back two panoramas of Albuquerque.

The effort will be to make these panoramas show as much of the business district as possible. William H. Walton is making the panoramas. Last week he made one from the top of the Elks' theater, showing a very good view of the business district from the tracks to the Masonic temple. Mr. Walton is not satisfied with this view, while a beautiful photograph, shows the backs of many of the principal buildings. He is going to make several additional negatives and expects to make one from the roof of the Rappaport Furniture company's store which has not been tried before and which he believes will make a better showing. Many photographers have tried to make a panorama of Albuquerque but up to this time with indifferent success, the city, and especially the business district, being so located that a successful panorama is almost impossible. The view made by Mr. Walton last week is by far the best yet taken.

The merchants using the envelopes will leave the forms standing, so that the advertising envelope will be in continual use.

FIRE THREATENS TO WIPE OUT BUSINESS SECTION OF DEXTER

(By Licensed Wire to Evening Herald.)
Dexter, N. M., Jan. 20.—Fire which for a time threatened to wipe out the business section of Dexter, fifteen miles south of here, destroyed four buildings, including a hotel, telephone office and newspaper plant, totalling about $7,000. Cliff Shirley, a lodger in the hotel, was severely injured by jumping from a second story window.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sore Throat and Runny Nose Cease, Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dizziness and headache disappear. It's morning! The catarrh, cold, croup or catarrh sore throat will be gone. End such misery now. Get the small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty sneezes and a feeling of churning; soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils clogged, hacking and crouping; catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

---clinkers

IT IS neither pleasant or convenient to have to let your furnace or stove fire die out so that you can get the clinkers out. In addition your house is cold, you lose the heat you have already obtained and your temper is spoiled.

Why not burn genuine gas coke that has no clinkers. All that is necessary is to shake the ashes out of the bottom of the stove or furnace once or twice a day. Besides you obtain more heat for the same money from a clean dirtless fuel. Remember
